RESET – Release Shame & Receive the Shift

Let this truth settle in: You're not broken. You're becoming.

Being fired or let go doesn't mean you're a failure. It means something sacred is being freed in you. But before you rebuild, you must reset your mindset.

Mindset Reframe:

“This is not rejection — it's redirection to something more divine.”

Journal Prompt:

- Where am I still trying to prove I'm worthy?
- What part of me is grieving? What part of me is secretly relieved?
- What version of me is being asked to rise now?

 Essential Oil Support: Try doTERRA's Adaptiv Calming Blend to soothe anxiety during this transition.

REFLECT – Realign with What You Really Want

You're not starting from scratch. You're starting from truth.

This is the perfect time to ask questions most people avoid when they're "secure" but stuck.

Soul Reflection Questions:

- What part of my last job did I outgrow spiritually?
- What would my ideal day look like if money wasn't an issue?
- Whose breakthrough is connected to my story?

Clarity Action:

Write a “What I No Longer Tolerate” list. Then write a “What I’m Now Available For” list.

REBUILD – Monetize Your Message

Now that you're clearer, let's tap into your monetizable gifts.

It's time to ask: What would I create if I stopped playing small?

- 3 skills people often compliment you on
- 3 topics you could teach, write about, or guide people through
- 1 digital product you could create (eBook, journal, template, checklist)
- 1 affiliate product you love that aligns with your story
